AWATEUR THEATBICALE. - In our notice esterday morning, of the entertainment, ensisting of tableaux and music, to be given next week for the benefit of the Sollier's Home, we briefly commended the subject to the attention of the public. Few four citizens are sware of the amount of ur frequent visits there have shown us its arrive here any day. sefulness, and no one can fail to be deeply sterested who will take the trouble to find tout. There is no city now on any of the great roules, which is without a Soldier's ome, and we can say with confidence. from our experience of those in Chicago nd Cincinnati, that no more comfortable uarters or kinder care are bestowed upon the soldiers in any other institutions than in our own Home. The support of Soldie: 's lomes in other cities, we learn, has usually sen entirely distinct from the funds apreprinted to the purchase of Sanitary tores; but with us it has necessarily bee branch of the Sanitary work. We are to see that this series of enter inments is voluntarily offered to the Solflier's Aid Society, the proceeds to be appropriated to this specific object. The ommittee of ladies and gantlemen having in charge the tableaux, have already con tributed very much in the same way to the successful representation of as beautiful always refunded the bills of freight. living pictures as can be imagined. TRANSIT OF REBEL PRISONERS.

A Large Belegat'on of Prisoners Par Through the City-Their Appear nnee, Spirit, &c.

A special train from Toledo brought to 9:40 10:00 this city, yesterday afternoon, five huna:20 dred rebel prisoners from the barracks in Rock Island, Illinois. They were under-Juited States Veteran Reserves, and at-As soon as they could be transferred to the Pittsburgh train they left over that road, en route for City Point to be exhanged.

we dare say, as any which the Itelian towns could present. The six hundred who passed through here on Tuasday night were, as we have said, a fine looking commany, hale and hearty, every one. But the chanies of yesterday came rightfully by their woe-begone appearance, as they were and had been recently culled out of the hospitals. If Carlyle had seen these men before he wrote "Sartor Resertus," the sight of their garments would have given rise to several more quaint reflections than those he has of us in that unique and immortal dissertation on the philosophy of clothes. There was nearly every modern and ancient style, rock coats, dress coate, surtouts, roundssouts, sacks, wamuses, and, in the absence of these, shawls which aped, not in he dirt and grease grained in, but in cut and manner of wearing, the toga of old. There was every color, black, gray, white, brown and butternut, but the colors were faded and threatened to go out entirely, leaving the clothing nothing but pure transparency. On the garments was patch on patch, we know not how many strata deep, giving the wearers a decidedly novel aspect. It has not been settled how far the process and expedient of patching can be carried; perhaps the tailors have a theory corresponding with that of railroad engineers and machinists, who affiirm that an engine lasts forever by virtue of being re-patched, and thus renewed; but one is inclined to become skeptical of the tailor-theory, viewing the extreme limit to which these rebels have carried it. We saw some of the gayest fests of tailoring, carried to successful issue by necessity, the mother of expedients and invention, but which would have made Brummell crazy. The most noticeable feature of the livng tableaux was the youthful appearance of the prisoners. They were mostly youths, or very young men. The Washington Ohronicle of risoners were mounting the coaches. The the 15th, by way of settling the rumor current at the National Capital, to the effect the side of the train opposite the prisoners, that Provest Marshal Fry had issued orders postponing the draft, denies that any such order has been issued, and adds : The terms of the President's proclams tion of December 19, 1864, calling for 300, 900 men, in order to supply a deficiency under the call of July 18, 1854, provides precinct, or election district, or of a county ot so sub-divided, shall not be filled be fore the 15th day of February, 1865, then a draft shall be made to fill such quota, or of saints, but his was of a bluish color, and the olor was powerfully sulphurous.

In pursuance of that proclamation, the Provost Marchal General on Monday issued instructions to the provost marshals requiring them, in all their districts and subdistricts wherein the quota should not be filled to-day, to proceed to make preparations for a draft just as he did prior to the receivers draft sustant he did prior to the previous drate, neither of which took place until some time after the day up to which time was given by the proclamation for recruiting.

These preparations for the draft will be consummated as speedily as possible, and there is every reason now to suppose that the draft will be made at an early day.
